FOOD TECHNOLOGY

As we come to such a different and interesting year, the students in all years have been completing their task assessments with such enthusiasm, it has been impressive to watch.

The year 11's have now entered their HSC year, wish those who have decided that their priorities lie elsewhere all the best. The girls have started to create their own dishes as well as getting into the Christmas spirit building their mini Gingerbread Houses.

With their first HSC task assessment due date coming up, it is great to see all of them keep up their dedication towards their studies. They have been a great class throughout 2020. All of them have made it easier for myself, with all of them seeking myself out during lunch times or recess, or through google classroom when they have had difficulties understanding the work. I look forward to this effort taking them through till the end of 2021. Wishing them all a great Xmas break.

Year 10, have also had a great year considering all the extra challenges we have had to overcome throughout 2020. I was so blown away by their end of year task assessment efforts practically. Each group was given a section of Christmas Buffet to present. They planned, designed and created a buffet of which I could only say as a professional team. It was fun to watch them create their teams, work out the mechanics and strengths of each team. They then had many robust discussions of what they should cook or prepare and then who would be best to complete each particular dish. The final presentation was absolutely gorgeous in both presentation and taste.

Year 9

All I can say is WOW... Their cake presentations and most portfolios can only be described as fantastic. Year 9 this year has put in a fantastic job all year. They should be very proud of their efforts, surpassing my expectation as a cohort with all that they touched, researched, analysed, and presented. Their creativity, organisational skills and enthusiasm throughout the year was awesome.

To all my classes this year, I wish them and their families a Merry Christmas and Happy new year, I look forward to seeing them all bright, enthusiastic and well rested in 2021
